5. Read the given passage and answer the question that follows: The life of a man is a long march through the night, surrounded by invisible foes, tortured by weariness and pain, towards goal that few can hope to reach, and where none may tarry long. One by one, as they march, our comrades vanish from our sight, seized by the silent orders of omnipotent Death. Very brief is time in which we can help them, in which their happiness or misery decided. Be it ours to shed sunshine on their path, to light their sorrows by the balm of sympathy, to give them the pure joy of a never-tiring affection, to strengthen failing courage, to instil faith in hours of despair, Let us remember that they are fellow-sufferers in the same darkness, actors in the same tragedy with ourselves. i) How do you define the life of man? ii) What happens to our comrades during their long march of life? iii) How can we help our fellow beings? iv) Should we judge our fellow sufferers? v) Give a suitable title to the passage?	2013
